

Global China

pulse

volume 1 | Issue 1 | 2022

GLOBAL CHINA PULSE

Volume 1, Issue 1, 2022

Global China Pulse is published independently by a collective of scholars and practitioners

All issues are published under Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 International (CC BY-NC-ND 4.0).

The full licence terms are available at creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/4.0/legalcode

CHIEF EDITORS:

Mark Bo, Ivan Franceschini, Ching Kwan Lee, Nicholas Loubere, Hong Zhang

AIMS AND SCOPE:

Global China Pulse (GCP) is an open access biannual publication that focuses on China's international engagements in their various manifestations. The project stems from The People's Map of Global China (thepeoplesmap.net), an online map in which nongovernmental organisations, journalists, trade unions, and academics come together to provide up-to-date information on various dimensions of Global China in their localities. Alongside the informational infrastructure the Map provides, GCP offers a new space to publish content in a variety of styles and, possibly, experiment with different approaches and formats. GCP rests on two pillars: the conviction that today more than ever it is necessary to bridge the gap between the scholarly community, civil society, and the general public; and the related belief that open access is necessary to ethically reappropriate academic research from commercial publishers who restrict the free circulation of ideas.

INFORMATION FOR CONTRIBUTORS:

Authors are invited to submit articles, notes, or book reviews, but are encouraged to discuss their ideas with the editors beforehand. All manuscripts are subject to a refereeing process. Manuscripts and editorial correspondence should be emailed to: editors@madeinchinajournal.com.

INFORMATION FOR READERS:

Global China Pulse is published twice a year. It is freely available online at thepeoplesmap.net/globalchinapulse.

NOTE ON VISUAL MATERIAL:

All images in this publication have been fully accredited. As this is a non-commercial publication, certain images have been used under a Creative Commons licence. These images have been sourced from Flickr, Wikipedia Commons, and the copyright owner of each original picture is acknowledged and indicated in the source information.

PUBLISHED BY:

Centre for East and South-East Asian Studies
Lund University
P.O Box 118
SE- 221 00 Lund
Sweden

GLOBAL CHINA PULSE

VOLUME 1, ISSUE 1, 2022

Chief Editors

Mark Bo
Ivan Franceschini
Ching Kwan Lee
Nicholas Loubere
Hong Zhang

Editorial Board

David Bandurski
Romain Dittgen
Jessica DiCarlo
Ruben Gonzalez-Vicente
Jordan Lynton
Igor Rogelja
Konstantinos Tsimonis

Editorial Assistant

Arthur Kaufman

Copy-editing

Jan Borrie

Issue Contributors

Nicholas Bosoni
Paulina Garzón
Charlotte Goodburn
Ho-fung Hung
Jan Knoerich
Latinoamérica Sustentable
Danqing Li
Siman Li
Neil Loughlin
Vida Macikenaite
Ryan Martínez Mitchell
Maria Repnikova
Shawn Shieh
Austin Strange
Pei-hua Yu

Design, Typesetting

Tommaso Facchin

Cover Design

Anna Formilan

Global China Pulse is an initiative by:

Realised with the financial support of:

TABLE OF CONTENTS

EDITORIAL P.9

BRIEFS P.13

OP-EDS P.23

What is Global China? P.25
Ching Kwan LEE

Understanding the China Development Bank in Latin America P.33
Latinoamérica Sustentable

What's Behind the Diplomatic Spat between China and Lithuania? P.41
Vida MACIKENAITE

How Global Capitalism Became Humanity's 'Fate' in Xi Jinping's
New Era P.51
Ryan Martínez MITCHELL

ESSAYS P.61

China's Overseas Energy Investments after the 'No Coal' Pledge:
An Assessment P.63
Danqing LI, Siman LI, and Mark BO

Translating China's Special Economic Zone 'Model' into Rural Southern India:
Impacts on Urban Development P.75
Charlotte GOODBURN
Jan KNOERICH

Overlapping Agendas on the Belt and Road: The Case of the Sihanoukville
Special Economic Zone P.85
Mark BO
Neil LOUGHLIN

Civil Society's Multifaceted Response to China's Belt and Road Initiative P.99
Shawn SHIEH

High-Profile Infrastructure and China's Global Influence Gamble P.111
Austin STRANGE

Pragmatic Living in Motion: Two Chinese 'Migrants' and their Meanderings in the 'City of Gold' P.123
Romain DITTGEN

PROJECT SPOTLIGHT P.139

Boten: From Dawn till Dusk P.141

Text by Jessica DICARLO

Photos by Nicholas BOSONI

Eventuality and Rhythms of Life in a City Yet-to-Come P.145

Text by Jessica DICARLO

Photos by Nicholas BOSONI

VOICES FROM THE GROUND P.160

Engaging with China in Latin America: A Conversation with Paulina Garzón P.161

Mark BO

Paulina GARZÓN

BOOKS P.169

Chinese Soft Power: A Conversation with Maria Repnikova P.171

Nicholas LOUBERE

Maria REPNIKOVA

Clash of Empires: A Conversation with Ho-fung Hung P.177

Hong ZHANG

Ho-fung HUNG

CONTRIBUTORS P.184

BIBLIOGRAPHY P.188